TARIFF BILLS COMPARED.

WHICH OF THE TWO MEANS FREE WHISKEY? WHAT THE INTERNAL REVENUE PROVISIONS OF

THE " DARK LANTERN" BILL WILL EFFECT -THE DAMAGING OPINION OF THE COM-MISSIONER OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

(BY TRLEGRAPH TO THE PRIBENE.) Washington, Oct. 13.—The attacks of the Demo-eratic Senators on the provision in the Senate substi-tute which remits, under proper and sufficient saferds, the internal tax on alcohol used in the aris, as absurd as many other features of their opposi-to that measure. "This opens the door to fraud. tion to that measure. "This opens the door to fraud-and means free whiskey," they cry; and in aimost the same breath they proclaim their approval of the internal revenue sections of the "Dark Lantern" bill, which provides, among other things, for the remission of the license taxes imposed by the Government on retail dealers in spirituous and malt liquors, and virtually repeals the lay on unlimited quantities of virtually repeals the tax on unlimited quantities of whiskey, provided the same be manufactured in distilleries with a measured capacity of less than twen-

The first provision is designed to effect two objects:

First, to lighten the greivous burden under which the liquor-sellers of the country are staggering; and secondly, to remove one means now employed to detect violations of the prohibitory or high-license laws of several States and many counties and towns where the policy of local option has been established. The second provision, with the accompanying sections, is econd provision, with the accompanying sections, is oth calculated and designed to make beverage whisboth calculated and designed to make beverage whis-key virtually free of tax, especially in one large section of the country. It has been a subject of remark that no advocate of the "Dark-Lantern" bill, in either branch of Congress, has been able to show that, in the judgment of the Commissioner of Internal Rev-enue, it will be practicable to prevent frauds upon the revenue and a large output of "free whiskey," if the sure is adopted.

d strong influences exerted to induce the Con er to express such an opinion, but he did not do It is also now known that on more than one casion he has warred the free-trade supporters of a free-whiskey provisions of the House bill, that adopted, those settions will not only demoralize internal revenue service, but will result in unnited production and sale of whiskey, without the tyment of a tax.

A UNIQUE DEMOCRATIC APPEAL PROMISING TO RETURN SURPLUS COLLECTIONS. IF THERE SHOULD BE ANY-MR LE PEVERS INDISCREET SPEECH.

Washington, Oct. 13 (Special).-Perhaps the most unque and amusing circular inviting cam-paign commutations that has been received by clerks in the Departments is that issued by the chairman of the Democratic fisied by the in North Carolina. The plaintive and minor key it which it is written sadly belies which decorates the envelope in which the missive er, is the artful and seductive hint at the end that a surplus might possibly be returned to the fortunate contributor. The idea that a Demratic committee could even possess a surplus, and, possessing, would return it, is exceedingly refresh-so possessing, would return it, is exceeding ing. The circular is as follows:

Ealegh, N. C., October, 1888.

My Dear Sir: As you doubtless already know, a political campaign cannot be conducted without money. This committee is sorry, but in sandor, is competied to say that there is disorganization, iniliference and discontent in the Democratic pirty to an asyming extent; and that to secure the State in November to Cleveland and Fowle, there must be systematic and uncessing work until the fact of election. This will require funds. Knowing day of election. This will require funds. Knowing how realous and liberal you always are in aiding the party, this committee feels boind to notify you of the situation, and to ask you for peculiary assistance. All contributions when received are placed in the bank, and checked out as needed. As the name of all contributors and the amount paid by each is preserved, if there should be any surplus on hand at the end of he canvass there will be no difficulty in a pre rata distribution of it to those who have created the fund Hoping trhear from you at the earliest moment, I am, yours very ruly.

SPIER WHITAKER. I am, yours very cruly, SPIER WHITAKER,

The reference to the surplus is rather amusing in wiew of what ex Congressman "Ben" Le Fevre, of Ohio, is reposed as saying to one of his intimates the other day "Why, gentlemen, said he, "the Washington Departments are not coming up to the scratch at all this time. They're contributing the merest trifle, and what they do 'ante up' is doled out in the tost pitiful driblets. By Jove, we don't get enough out of 'em even to buy champagne for the headquarters of the National Committee. get enough out of 'em even to buy champagne for the headquarters of the National Committee."

This exceedingly discreet admission of General Le Fevre, while it casts a somewhat startling light on the convivial esssions of the National Democratic Committee in West Twenty-ninth-st., will doubtless largely samulate the male and female Government employes in Washington to contribute lavishly of their hard-earned shekels to provide "Mamm's Extra Dry" in hore coplous streams for the thirsty committee.

FUYDS THAT FAILED TO MATERIALIZE. Washington, Oct. 13 (Special: -Chairman Barnum has decided that he will not leave Washington until to morrow. It seems that the receipts of to-day did not meet his expectations, but it is understood that more money has been promised. John Milton Turner, who had made some big promises, tried to raily his cohort of colored men who are anxious to contribute to the campa gn fund, but the attempt was a signal failure. Only three men of color appeared in You of the 500 promised, and Statesman Turner looked sheepish as he sneaked from Mr. Barnum's parlor. The two or three colored individuals who appeared cast apprehensive glances around, very much as if they were about to enter a forbidden watermelon-patch. THAT SURPLUS DISAPPEARING.

Washington, Oct. 13.-The total amount of bends purchased to date under the circular of April is £64,670,750, of which $51,392,000 were 4 per cents and $33,278,750 were 4 1-2 per cents. The cost of these bonds was $66,005,539 for the fours and $85,-896,192 for the four-and-halfs, making a total of $101,901,731. Notwithstanding these heavy payments, the Treasury surplus to-day is stated at $38,-

MOVING AGAINST INSURANCE COMPANIES. Boston, Oct. 13 (Special).—Insurance Commissioner errill has found two more assessment insurance companies which he thinks demand the attention of the Attorney-General, and has sent a letter to that official. in which he says that the Provident Mutual Association, of Boston, of which William H. Towne is president, a corporation organized in 1887, and authorized to begin business March 22, 1888, has failed to make any deposit of an emergency fund as required by law, and is therefore transacting business

Merrill, to referring to this case, says: "I request that you take immediate proceedings procure from the Supreme Judicial Court an in-metion restraining the said association from further transaction of business in this commonwealth."

direct violation of the Massachusetts statute. Major

A similar letter was sent to the Attorney-General A similar letter was sent to the Attorney-General active to the Provident Fraternity, another assess-ment company, of which Julius L. Clark is the presi-dent. Informations asking for injunctions against both of these companies were filed with the cierk of the Supreme Court yesterday.

DEATH OF A CIRCUS PERFORMER Boston, Oct. 13 (Special).—Thomas H. Williams an actor and circus performer, died at his home in this city on Thursday. He was born in this city sixty-nine years ago, in Bowdoin Square. His specialty in the circus line was cannon-ball tossing, and over forty years ago he was a feature of the threuses of this city. He was a great traveller and played in all parts of Euorpe and South America and in many places in India. His funeral took place to-

A PUBLIC LIBRARY FOR ACTON, MASS. Boston, Oct. 13 (Special).-There is a good prospect that the town of Acton will be the next in the list of those lucky Massachusetts towns to receive the off of a fine memorial building from a citizen whose generosity is commensurate with his means. Will-lam A. Wilde, the publisher of Sunday-school literature In this city, has purchased the Fletcher estate, near PRIMARY REOPENS OCTOBER L

the Town Hall in Acton, with the purpose of erecting upon it a structure to be used for a public library and soldiers' memorial hall, the entire cost to be paid by himself. The generous donor is unwilling to give particulars of the project at present.

LAUNCHING OF THE GUNBOAT PETREL. THE FIRST WARSHIP BUILT IN BALTIMORE-CHRISTENED BY MISS SCHLEY.

Baltimore, Oct. 13.—At the Columbia Iron Works, this city, at 2:08 o'clock to-day, the gunboat Petrel, the first warship built in Baltimore, was successfully launched. The Washington party, some thirty-five in number, invited by Secretary Whitney arrived at about noon. Among those present were Vice-Admiral S. C. Rowan, Admiral S. R. Franklin, Commodore W. S. Schley and party of six ladies; Commodore Montgomery Steard, Chief Constructor 2. D. Wilson. Paymaster-General James Fulton, Surgeon-General Brown, Pay Director Thornton, Pay Inspector Kenny. Lieutenant Baba, of the Japanese Legation, and Juan 8. Atwell, of the Argentine Legation.

wedges beneath the "making-up" were driven in and the triggers of the sliding ways were sawed through, and, as the symmetrical mass of iron started, the beautiful daughter of the Chief of the Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting, Miss Virginia Schley, standing upon the raised platform directly beneath the prow, there broke the bottle of champagne and christened Gunboat No. 2 "The Petrel." After the launch the invited guests partook of a luncheon on board the United States steamer Dispatch and then returned to Washington. in immediately. The ship probably will be turned over to the Government early in January. Following is a description of the Petrel: Length between per-pendiculars, 175 feet; breadth, moulded, 30 feet 10 1-2 inches; breadth, extreme, 31 feet; deepth of hold amidships, 15 feet 7 Inches; mean draught, 11 feet 7 inches, displacing 870 tons. She is a poop and fore-castle vessel, rigged as a barkentine, without headgear, with a plain sail area of 4,480 square feet. machinery is to indicate 900 horse power with natural draft, and 1,300 with forced combustion, the fire-room being arranged for closing. The stem, which is of cast steel, is slightly ram-shaped. Her other means of offence are four six-inch guns mounted on sponor abaft the beam; also two high-power single shot, two Hotchkiss revolvers and one short Gatling, no placed beneath a three-eighth-inch water-tight are placed beneath a three-eighth-inch water-tight steel deck and protected by shell gradings, and also by the coal. The bunker capacity is 190 tons of coal and the complement 100 men. The single screw, nine feet, nine inches in diameter, is driven by a compound engine having cylinders twenty-five and forty-six inches in diameter and a stroke of thirty-three inches, revolutions 136 per minute. There are two boilers, eighteen feet and eight inches in diameter, with a collective grate service of ninety-five square feet. There are eight thwartship water-tight compariments, extending from keel to spar deck. The cabins, wardroom, etc., will be of the same general finish as in the other vessels. The maximum speed will be nearly thirteen knots.

PACKARD'S BUSINESS COLLEGE and School of Shortband furnishes more good paying positions for young men and women man any school or agency in the city, and the reasons are obvious; First. It trains its students to do the work, that people want done, and, next, the public knows it and applies for them. When a banker or business man wants a thoroughly trained cierk instead of advertising and being flooded with irresponsible letters he sends at once to Packard's and gets what he wants. If a lawyer or merchant wants an anamenasis, he knows just where to look for one that will hill his bill; and that is always Packard's. And this comes from thirty years eathful work in one line and a reputation which such work brings. There is to-day no better known school in the country than Packard's Business College; none that has so wide and intelligent a constituency; none that does more thorough work. Send for an illustrated circular of this model school.
